

E-mail Notification Software

RJG's Alert™ is a state of the art, plantwide monitoring program which allows you to be in several places at one time! It gives you the freedom to be anywhere in your facility and still know immediately when a problem occurs with a molding machine on the plant floor.

Alert™ is an efficient and simple to use Alert System that notifies users when their machines are not operating within optimal parameters enabling them to respond quickly to problems that might not get noticed otherwise. Based on their preferences, users are notified by e-mail when all or any combination of the following events occurs on machines being monitored: a machine is down during a run, a machine creates reject parts, and/or a machine creates suspect parts.

With cell phones and pagers that accept e-mail messages, you can be completely mobile, and still be in touch with your molding machines. You have the ability to restrict duplicate e-mails by setting a time limit for receiving alerts when duplicate events happen.

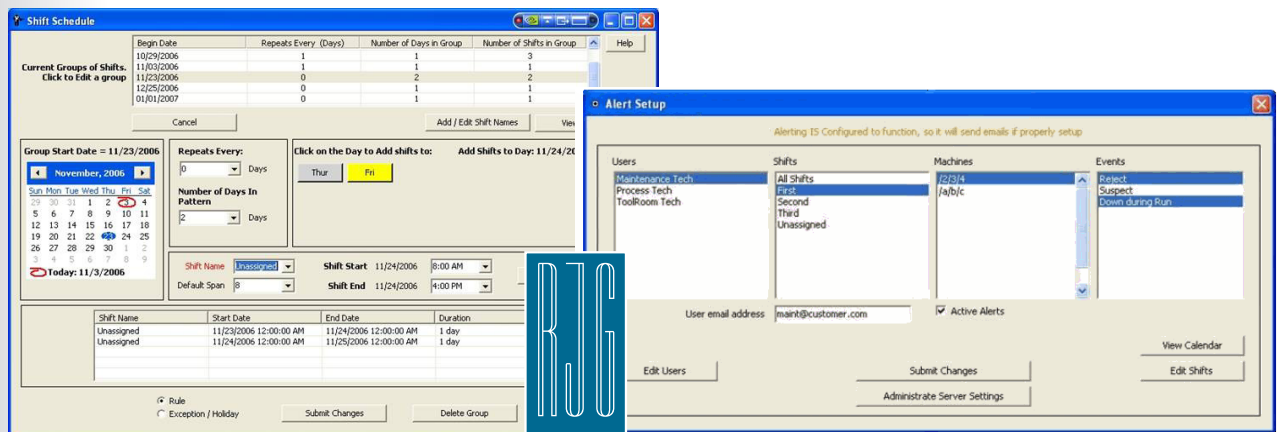

For monitoring on a plant wide level, Alert™ can be installed and customized, allowing the plant to be split into cells. Supervisors and technicians only receive alerts for issues in their specified area.
